Introduction – Legislative Framework

All children and young people, whether they are looked after by their local authority, guardians, carers or by their parents, need to feel safe in the area surrounding their home. Just as any parent would want to their child to live in a safe area, so too will a corporate parent who places children in a children's home. a location is safe can change rapidly, and may depend on the vulnerabilities of particular children. Indeed, some individual children may themselves heighten risks in an area if they have particularly risky behaviours.

A home may be located in an area with some local risks, and still be 'safe', if these are managed well, arrangements are made to keep children safe, and placement decisions take account of these risks. Consideration of risks in a local area, and what steps should be taken to mitigate these should be part of the care planning and placement decision process. Placing social workers should be responsible for assessing local risks and making judgments about safe locations before placing the child. The availability of support and services in the local area (e.g., education, health, CAMHS), as well as risk factors, should be considered before the placement is made.

Role of the provider

Better equipping children's home staff to make judgments about local risks, manage challenging behaviour, and keep children safe is an important element. Workforce training, support, and knowledge is therefore critical to the success.

The Children's Homes and Looked after Children (Miscellaneous Amendments) (England) Regulations 2013 introduced the following changes to the Children's Homes Regulations 2001 and the Registration Regulations:
Regulation 31(1A) and (1B) of the Children's Homes Regulations 2001, as amended, introduced a requirement in January 2014 for providers or managers to:

- Ensure that premises used for the purposes of a children's home are appropriately and suitably located so that children cared for by the home are:
  (a) effectively safeguarded, and
  (b) able to access services to meet the needs identified in their care or placement plan;
- Review the appropriateness and suitability of the location of the premises at least once in every calendar year.

There is numerous bus stops located within a 1-mile radius of Emerald House which makes transport easy and accessible to not only other areas of Wolverhampton, but also Cannock, Walsall, Dudley, and Birmingham. However, the bus routes also lead to the Wolverhampton town area, where the bus depot, train station, and tram are located. The bus depot has buses that also connect to wider areas in the West Midlands and the Shropshire area. The train station has been refurbished and now has barriers. Therefore, tickets must be purchased in order to be able to access a train. However, the tram does not have a gated entrance and is more easily accessible. There are also increased tensions between the V2 and V3 gang with suspicion of potential retaliation from a spate of recent knife incidents	• If a young person has historical substance misuse, this would be identified within the matching process, risk assessments, and placement plans implemented at the admission stage. • The young people would be educated as to the dangers of drugs, and all other risks associated such as potential gang affiliation. • The home has built a good relationship with the local substance misuse service called Wolverhampton 360 and also with our local PCSOs. This allows us to be informed of any significant new information regarding local substance misuse/crime concerns. • If a young person were to have unaccompanied time with friends or family, then this would be risk assessed and authorised by both the home's manager and social worker, as well as being continually reviewed for safeguarding purposes.

CONCLUSION

The locality of Emerald House appears to be an appropriate and relatively low-risk area in which to have a Children's home. Emerald House is located in a Neighbourhood watch area; therefore, the home manager is able to remain up to date with any crimes within the area and/ or close proximity to Emerald House.

Neighbourhood Watch Network website

When consulting with the police, they informed that Young People placed in Children's Homes, Foster Placements, and Semi-independent units are at greater risk of missing from care and placing themselves at significant risk of harm by risk-taking behaviour and exposure to criminal activity. The local PSCO will visit the home to build relationships and provide advice and support in the local area when visiting. Where there are concerns for the child or young person, it may be appropriate for the police to work with Emerald House to assist with the safeguarding of the child.

The Home's locality provides very good access to education services, health services, and a wide range of activities and amenities, which can be easily accessed by the children.

Following consultation with the professionals within Wolverhampton, it appears as though Emerald House would be deemed high risk for CCE and MFC. CCE is a high risk due to there being two known gangs located in close proximity to Emerald House, and other gangs in the Wolverhampton area, which are currently situated in the town centre, around the Wolverhampton Bus depot. The gang affiliation is also connected to a spate of knife crime within Wolverhampton.

Additionally, MFC is also a high risk due to the transport links near Long Knowle Lane, and the surrounding roads as they lead to various areas in the West Midlands, and also the town centre where there is access to tram, train, and buses across not only the West Midlands, but the country. This would be taken into consideration during the matching/referral process.

Alongside this, access to drugs would be deemed high risk. This is due to the high risk of CCE within the local area, and the opportunity an individual would have to obtain drugs if attempted.

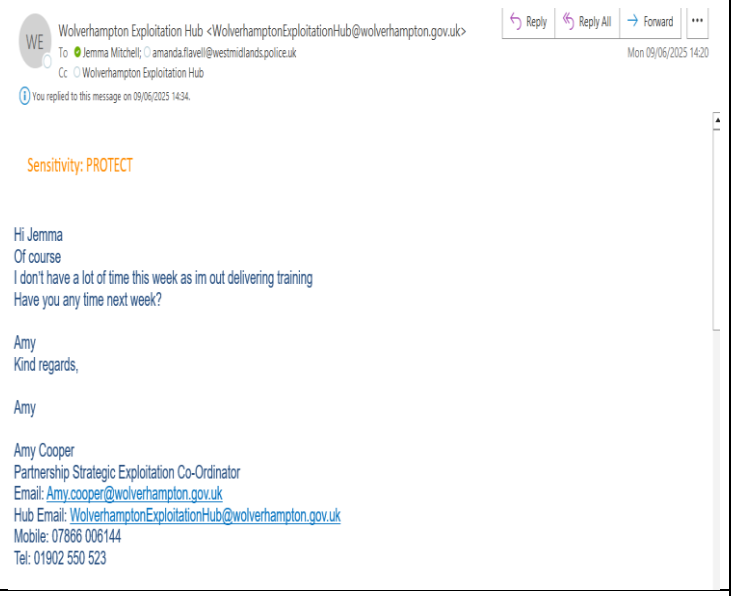

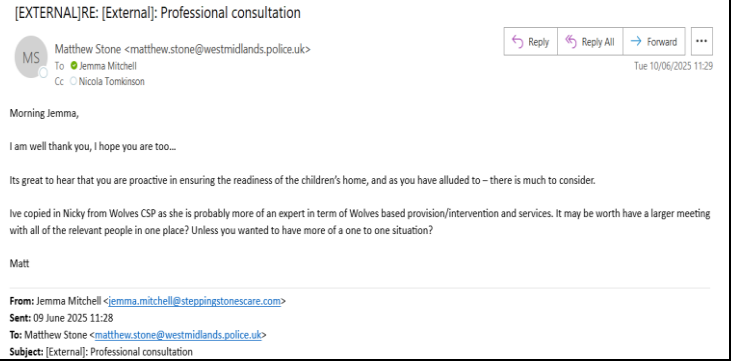

Overall, we can conclude that the locality of Emerald House appears to be a medium/ low risk area in which to have a Children's home and provides a safe and stable residential environment with good access to services within the area. Carers are experienced in working with children in residential care and receive bespoke training to ensure the children in placement are safeguarded appropriately.
